Exploding Scandinavian quintet. Their music is a furies and beautiful combination of freely improvised melodies and short compositions, all wrapped up in acoustic free jazz aesthetics. As a band they share a strong passion for music made in the moment. Martin Küchen's raw and intensive tone along with Mats Åleklint's powerful trombone and the joyful energy of trumpeter Magnus Broo is a perfect match with the powerhouse Norwegian rhythm section consisting of Jon Rune Strøm and Tollef Østvang. Their debut-album on Stone Floor Records manifested a unique dedication to acoustic and impulsive interplay, while their second release «Satan in Plain Clothes» on Clean Feed showed a clear direction towards a spontaneous and original sound and received 4 out of 5 stars in DownBeat Magazine.

"This rugged Swedish-Norwegian quintet represents an exiting explosion of progressive jazz coming out of Scandinavia" "Loose, rugged and poignant" (Peter Margasak/DownBeat Magazine).

"Modern free jazz with open forms in which lyricism and personal voices floats in and out constantly". (Soundofmusic, SE)
